has participated in the following openHPI course:

Inspirations for Design

by Mana Taheri, Karen von Schmieden, and Lena Mayer

The course covered the following topics:

- The basics of design research and its value
- The basics of the Observation method (with a focus on workarounds, misuses, and the jobs-to-be-done framework)
- The fundamentals of preparing, conducting, and interpreting a qualitative interview in a user research context

The participant qualified for this confirmation by accessing more than 50% of all learning material.
